

I'm Justice K.- Area AA Events coordinator. For those who don't know, my role is to ensure that Al-Anon is represented at AA events throughout the state. There are several upcoming events. I have created a flyer highlighting all of them as well as included the flyers for each individual event that is currently available (See below). Please continue to announce them at your groups. If any of your group members approach you for more information, please know I am happy to connect and answer any questions they have.

Last month I reached out to every DR in our Area and requested to be invited to each district meeting. I was able to attend one meeting last month and hope to connect with more GRs through district meetings for the remainder of the year to continue to raise awareness around our tradition of cooperation and encourage participation on these various committees.

Why is this an important service position?

As I have shared several times during my term; My very first Al-Anon meeting took place at an AA convention. My very first piece of literature (Courage to Change) was given to me at the literature table at an AA convention. I learned about Al-Anon because my loved one included me in their recovery and brought me to open AA events that had Al-Anon participation. I personally feel that this position is one of the most vital ways we can show up for the newcomer and carry the message to the family member who's still suffering.

During my term I have had so many wonderful members step up to chair AA events and have gotten the chance to connect, know, and support each of them as they served on their various committees. I am so grateful to everyone who says yes to service, as this can often require stepping outside of our comfort zone or adapting our schedules be available. Service can be scary, but for me 8 years ago, someone's willingness to be of service changed my life.

This is why it is so important to me that Al-Anon continue to participate with AA. Currently, the Connecticut State Convention of Young People in AA is without an Al-Anon Chair or Co-Chair. If I am unable to fill these positions, there will not be an Al-Anon program included in the weekend's events. For the first time in many years; there will not be Al-Anon meetings at CSCYPAA. I ask that you please continue to talk to your groups about these open positions and upcoming events and encourage your member to consider saying "yes" to service!
